(Right) The Youth4Climate Festival, CDL's flagship youth event since 2018, was graced by Minister for Sustainability and the Environment, Ms. Grace Fu (second from the right).

The second half of 2023 saw a continuation of the devastating climate- and nature-related catastrophes across the world. This Summer, the Northern Hemisphere experienced extreme heat and destructive rainfall¹. The 2023 Canadian wildfire season was one of the worst on record, burning over 15 million hectares of land². Deadly floods have also hit multiple countries in Asia, including Japan, China, and India, displacing millions of people and causing billions of dollars in damage³. World Meteorological Organization (WMO) Secretary-General, Professor Petteri Taalas, highlighted that "extreme weather is having a major impact on human health, ecosystems, economies, agriculture, energy, and water supplies." In September, the Antarctic Sea ice reached its lowest record, exposing the ocean surface to greater warming and enhancing sea level rise⁴. The United Nations also declared that up to one million species are threatened by extinction and many ecosystems are at risk of collapse. These events are a stark reminder of the urgent need to act on climate change and protect nature.

Nature loss is a fast-growing Environmental and Social Governance (ESG) issue as nature enhances social well-being, health, and livelihoods, and 44% of Gross Domestic Product (GDP) in cities is estimated to be at risk of disruption from nature loss. The new Nature-Positive Cities initiative by the World Economic Forum seeks to pursue an approach that transcends net-zero to build cities that are both future-proof and nature-positive⁵. Representing CDL, I am honoured to be invited to join the Nature-Positive Cities Global Commission that brings together mayors, business leaders, world-renowned urban planners and practitioners to raise awareness on the importance of healthy ecosystems in building more liveable and resilient cities⁶. CDL will also pioneer and voluntarily adopt the Taskforce on Nature-related Financial Disclosures (TNFD)

CDL continues to exemplify our commitment to education and thought leadership through our contribution to the book titled "Peace with Nature", which comprises 50 inspiring essays on nature and the environment. The book, co-produced by Professor Tommy Koh and edited by Ms Lye Lin Heng (Director of the Asia-Pacific Centre for Environmental Law (APCEL) & former Vice-Dean of the Faculty of Law, NUS) and Dr. Shawn Lum (Lecturer at NTU Asian School of the Environment), was launched in August by Minister for National Development Mr. Desmond Lee.

As a testament to CDL's long-standing dedication in engaging youth and the community, we were awarded the Impact Enterprise Excellence Award (Large Enterprise) by the Inaugural BT-UOB Sustainability Impact Awards for our Singapore Sustainability Academy (SSA), CDL Green Gallery, and Youth4Climate social impact initiatives. The fourth edition of the "We Love Our Planet" Storytelling Contest concluded at the final judging session in July at the SSA. The top contestants in the Family, Preschool, Lower Primary, and Upper Primary categories sent in the most engaging and inspiring stories under the theme "Say No To Waste!"

We are in a race against time to address climate change and nature loss. At CDL, we are steadfast in our resolve to achieve our sustainability goals. We will continue to focus on making a positive impact, accelerate climate action, engage our stakeholders, and push the boundaries of corporate sustainability.

3 AUGUST 2023 – We were awarded the Impact Enterprise Excellence Award (Large Enterprise) at the inaugural Sustainability Impact Awards Ceremony 2023 for spearheading net-zero developments in Singapore through the Singapore Sustainability Academy (SSA), CDL Green Gallery, and Youth4Climate initiatives. CDL CSO, Ms. Esther An, received the award from the Guest-of-Honour, Minister for Sustainability and the Environment, Ms. Grace Fu.

Held at the Fullerton Hotel Singapore, a total of ten individuals and enterprises were honoured for significantly benefitting the environment and societal well-being and demonstrating outstanding leadership in sustainability for a nature-positive future.

The Sustainability Impact Awards was launched on 1 February 2023. It is jointly presented by The Business Times and United Overseas Bank (UOB), with the Centre for Governance and Sustainability (CGS) at the NUS Business School as a knowledge partner. •

DRIVING SUSTAINABILITY THROUGH PARTNERSHIPS AND THOUGHT LEADERSHIP

ADVOCACY & BEST PRACTICES

In collaboration with CDP: “Beyond Climate and into Nature” Panel Discussion

Developing strategies towards environmental stewardship

The event was attended by about 70 friends and partners from diverse industries, ranging from consultants to investors to Non-Governmental Groups.

28 JULY 2023 – Business supply chains face the imminent issue of natural resource depletion arising from forest and biodiversity loss. This is an urgent and pressing matter that demands serious attention and immediate action.

Reacting to this concern, we collaborated with CDP to host “Beyond Climate and into Nature: Developing Strategies Towards Environmental Stewardship”, a panel discussion aimed at educating about forest and biodiversity issues locally and globally, and the impact on businesses. The discussion also aimed to impart knowledge about how businesses can contribute to a more sustainable future for all.

Held at the SSA, the event featured the launch of CDP’s Global Forest Report and a presentation by Dr. Thomas Maddox, Global Director, Forest and Land, CDP. He shared the key findings from CDP’s Global Forest Report 2022 and addressed the interconnectedness of climate change and biodiversity. He also discussed the importance of stopping nature loss and degradation to achieve a net-zero and nature-positive economy.

Following this was a panel discussion moderated by CDL CSO, Ms. Esther An, with speakers Dr. Thomas Maddox, Associate Principal Biodiversity Consultant from EnviroSolutions & Consulting, Mr. Kang Min Ngo, Board Member of Nature Society (Singapore), and Ms. Carolyn Lim, Senior Corporate Communication Manager from Musim Mas Group. •

CATALYSING CHANGE WITHIN THE LARGER ECOSYSTEM

PARTNERSHIPS & ENGAGEMENTS

CDL Youth4Climate Festival 2023

In support of Go Green Singapore and The President's Challenge

9 JULY 2023 – The Youth4Climate Festival, our flagship youth environmental outreach programme, was held on 8 and 9 July 2023. For the sixth consecutive year, this event was organised in support of Go Green SG, an initiative by the Ministry of Sustainability and the Environment to rally youth and the community to accelerate climate action. To this end, we unleashed a thrilling array of climate-centric initiatives:

1. Youth4Climate Concert

The fourth Youth4Climate Concert showcased several youth performances, including a storytelling session from the winners of the My Tree House “We Love Our Planet” Storytelling Contest 2022. The concert also featured our donation to the President’s Challenge of S$5.00 for every ‘like’ and ‘share’ of Youth4Climate-related social media posts on social platforms.

2. Eco Marketplace

The Eco Marketplace featured 40 vendors dedicated to promoting sustainable and eco-conscious goods. Products ranged from coasters made from eggshells to furniture made with upcycled plastic milk bottles.

3. Eco-Educational Workshops

We partnered with EB Impact, Seastainable, Just Keep Thinking, Scratchbac, and Stridy to curate educational workshops. These workshops aimed to teach the public about climate science, waste management and reduction, and eco-conscious living.

4. Movie Screening

Participants were treated to a screening of the films “Happy Feet” and “Happy Feet 2” to bring across the impacts of climate change. This is in line with our third Climate Action Exhibition, titled “Melting Ice, Sinking Cities”, which is held at the CDL Green Gallery (see CDL’s website for more information).

CDL CSO, Ms. Esther An, mentioned that the festival is “one of our many youth programmes to cultivate and nurture future green champions over the years”. She also asserted our company’s unvarying belief “in the power of youth and communities”. Further, she added that the festival “amplifies eco-consciousness and action to support the global and national climate targets towards a sustainable future for all.” •

NTU-SDG Open Hack SG with GGEF

CDL's 2nd year partnership engaged 400 youth to bolster entrepreneurial spirit for ESG

Presentation of certificates for the SDG Open Hack! SG at Singapore Sustainability Academy with CDL CSO, Ms. Esther An.

13 MAY - 15 JULY 2023 - Another year of continued support from us for the CDL-Global Green Economic Foundation (GGEF) SDG Open Hack! Singapore. This year, we sponsored the prize of a six-month rent-free space at the Incubator for SDGs located at Republic Plaza. Some of the main corporate sponsors included Global Green Connect and Market for Good.

In addition to receiving six rent-free months at the Incubator4SDGs, each of the three winning teams received the following prizes:

- Most Investable Solution: Acceptance to the SMU Institute of Innovation & Entrepreneurship's (IIE) Business Innovations Generator (BIG) Incubation Programme
- Most Innovative Solution: Bali Sustainability Experiential Learning Trip
- Most Impactful Solution: Summer SDG Programme in Geneva for four weeks

Organised by GGEF and held at the SSA, participating teams comprised of youth from the Social Impact Catalyst and various Institutes of Higher Learning, including Ngee Ann Polytechnic, Nanyang Technological University (NTU), and the National University of Singapore. Other programme partners included the Embassy of Switzerland in Singapore, SwissCham Singapore, University of Geneva and Geneva Tsinghua Initiative. The open hack aimed to inspire students to address societal and environmental issues through the 17 UN SDGs. It also aimed to foster innovation and entrepreneurship, among other skills.

The open hack consisted of two rounds. In the first round, students, along with their mentors, developed innovative solutions during a 24-hour on-campus session. In the second round, the top eight teams, each from a different institution, were required to present their solutions to an esteemed panel of judges that included partners from Open Geneva, Global Green Connect, CDL, Maybank, and the China Management Science Society.

The solutions presented reflected the teams' abundant knowledge and in-depth understanding of complex issues confronting our global community. Teams displayed an admirable knack for harnessing resources, conducting research, and employing creative thinking to craft practical, real-world solutions.

Indeed, the event was a great way to celebrate innovation and the vital role that young people play in promoting a sustainable and inclusive future for future generations. •

INTERNAL TRAININGS AND VALUE CHAIN ENGAGEMENTS

Our inaugural Green Building, Decarbonisation & Safety Seminar on 6 September

6 SEPTEMBER 2023 – As part of our company’s ongoing commitment to educate our workforce on sustainability, we organised our first-ever company-wide Green Building, Decarbonisation, and Safety seminar. Held in September at the Orchard Hotel Singapore, it was attended by over 100 employees and subsidiaries.

The seminar featured interactive role-playing segments and engaging sustainability games while exploring essential topics related to green building, decarbonisation, and safety, including mental health.

During his opening address, CDL Head of Green Building, Decarbonisation, and Safety, Mr. Allen Ang, shared his aspiration for the seminar to motivate colleagues to “adopt a safe and green mindset and appreciate low-carbon principles and practices to support our corporate net-zero vision”.

Two more runs of the seminar will be held in October and November; this will allow more than 350 employees to equip themselves with foundational knowledge about sustainability-related topics. •

10 JULY 2023 – To recognise the importance of stakeholder engagement in the building value chain, our management team conducts monthly visits to our buildings and construction sites.

This is on top of enforcing a robust Workplace Health and Safety (WSH) system, in line with our commitment to Environment, Health and Safety (EHS) excellence.

In July, CDL Group CEO, Mr. Sherman Kwek, and Group General Manager, Mr. Chia Ngiang Hong, met over 25 workers at the Irwell Hill Residences construction site to better understand onsite WSH protocols and advocate the importance of upholding them. •

SINGAPORE SUSTAINABILITY ACADEMY: DYNAMIC HUB FOR THOUGHT LEADERSHIP, ADVOCACY & CAPACITY BUILDING

Building a sustainable future requires the collaboration of a larger ecosystem. With support from six government agencies and 15 founding industry and NGO partners, we have created the Singapore Sustainability Academy (SSA) to be a hub for capacity building, thought leadership, and networking. The first of its kind, it is a zero-energy facility dedicated to advancing the SDGs and climate action.

Despite the pandemic, the SSA has continued its mission by hosting a series of physical and hybrid sustainability talks. These sessions were free and open to the public, enabling the SSA to expand outreach beyond our shores. In Q3 2023, the SSA welcomed over 1,300 in-person attendees. •

One Young World ASEAN Leadership Forum

5 August 2023

Young leaders united for change, sparking dialogue, and accelerating impact at the inaugural One Young World ASEAN Leadership Forum.

The One Young World ASEAN leadership forum united youth from across the region who are actively transforming their communities in the fields of climate, education, and mental health. The forum aimed to provide these young leaders and changemakers with a platform to network and discuss about how they can collaborate to accelerate their regional impact. The three plenary sessions revolved around the topics of "leadership in tackling our climate emergency", "quality education in ASEAN" and "prioritising mental health".

“Joining One Young World (OYW) gave me the opportunity to grow, learn, share and broaden my horizons with like-minded peers globally. It is the first step towards achieving our vision to bring the collaboration with OYW to this part of the world so that our youths can be inspired to become ambassadors and powerful drivers of change and positive social impact in the community,” said Rena Tan, Senior Manager of CDL’s Sustainability team.

Co-organised by the European Federation of Financial Analysts Societies, Sustainable Finance Research Hub and Global Green Connect, the Certified Environmental Social and Governance Analyst Exam (CESGA) examination saw its fifth run since its official launch in Singapore in August 2022. Upon passing the examination, candidates can add a ‘Certified ESG Analyst®’ or ‘CESGA®’ title after their name.

Secondsguru’s 9th Zero Waste Bootcamp Kick-off Event

30 September 2023

Community-driven eco+social projects take center stage as youth forge a path towards a greener future.

Secondsguru’s 9th Zero Waste Bootcamp (ZWB) aimed to provide youth with a platform to collaborate with their peers to design and execute eco+social projects in the community. At the Kick-off Event, participants had the opportunity to work with local organisations to innovate social and environmental solutions. Thereafter, the teams will craft an action plan to roll out in the community for 12 weeks. •
